Daniel Ferry, a grocer at Hazleton, testified that the strikers were quiet and orderly. He heard first a single shot and saw a striker fall. Then there was a volley and several fell. The witness said he saw a wounded man who was lying on the railroad get up, but he was shot down again. He said he saw William Raught, after the shooting became general, run after the strikers as far as the railroad track and shoot at a striker.

THEATRICAL BUDGET.

Whatever may be said against "The Conquerors" because of its nastiness, there can be no question that it has served to give Viola Allen and William Faversham, respectively the leading woman and leading man of the Empire theater stock company, the opportunity which is hopefully looked forward to by every actor—to show just how much he or she is capable of. The parts they play could not fit better if they had been written especially for them. Miss Allen's somewhat declamatory methods are an aid rather than a drawback to her as Yvonne, and her natural charm of manner, which appears never to desert her for a moment, of course heightens the effect of her good work.

Faversham has more mannerisms perhaps than any actor of prominence on the English speaking stage except Henry Irving. They are just as pronounced, too, as those of the great Englishman, but the latter has a scholarly method of treatment which Faversham does not possess, and what is therefore overlooked in one is severely criticised in the other. But if Faversham were an ordinary actor without any of the affectations which have somewhat retarded his artistic growth the chances are that he would not do nearly so well in the role assigned to him in "The Conquerors." This fellow is a swaggering, swashbucklerish sort of individual, and Faversham's usually irritating strut fits into the impersonation as accurately as though it had all been studied out carefully in advance. The fact that he cannot help it does not in any sense mar the effect, which is very striking, and it is no exaggeration to say that because of the production of "The Conquerors" Faversham and Miss Allen are 25 per cent stronger with the New York theater going public than they were prior to that event.

Verily the days of suggestiveness on the stage are upon us, at least so far as this city is concerned. "The Conquerors" is bold enough in all conscience, but in the opinion of many persons who ought to be competent to differentiate, "The Tree of Knowledge," the play by R. C. Carton, which is the current attraction at Mr. Daniel Frohman's pink tea little Lyceum theater, is much more frank in the discussion and elucidation of a subject which is popularly supposed to be tabooed in polite society. It is difficult even to give a detailed story of the comedy without treading on dangerous ground. This is all the more surprising in view of the fact that Mr. Frohman has always been supposed to be more timid in such matters than his younger brother Charles. And, besides, the clientele of the Lyceum is largely a family one, and the tone of the house has always been maintained with that fact prominently in view. Whether the production of "The Tree of Knowledge" is an indication that the policy of the theater is to be radically changed, or whether it is simply the result of one of those accidents which will happen in spite of the greatest care in the best regulated playhouses, time alone can tell. Meanwhile it cannot be denied that it has created a genuine sensation in the theatrical circles of this city.

It has always been a mystery to the close followers of theatrical affairs why Lillian Russell joined Della Fox and Jeff De Angelis in the formation of the three star alliance. The general impression has been that she would, with competent support, draw practically as much money as the three combined. Not that the others might not also pay as stars. In fact, the chances are largely in favor of the contention that either of them would make a great deal of money at the head of a company. But Miss Russell, whenever she has had a suitable vehicle, has usually played to pretty nearly the capacity of the houses at which she appeared, with the possible exception of those in two or three of the very large cities. The fact that the alliance is also doing "capacity" business is therefore not surprising.

But the news which was wafted into New York the other day to the effect that Lillian Russell, Jessie Bartlett Davis and Eugene Cowles, respectively the best soprano, the best contralto and the best basso in light opera in this country, were to be starred together next season was indeed surprising. It was more than that—it was inexplicable. Here are three people, in any one of whom, properly managed, there is a fortune, and yet there was serious talk of wasting the three in one company. It is said that only the prompt action of Manager Frank L. Perley in securing the signatures of Mrs. Davis and Mr. Cowles to contracts with the Bostonians for another year prevented the deal from going through. It is also said that if Mr. Perley had been a day later everything would have been irrevocably fixed.

Speaking of comic opera and its stars, it has been definitely decided, I am told, that in no event will the three star alliance be continued next season. Miss Fox is to have a new opera, so is Mr. De Angelis, and so probably also will Miss Russell if she should decide to decline a very flattering offer which has been made to her to appear in England. So, take it all in all, we ought to be pretty well provided with comic opera stars next season, especially as Miss Alice Neilson, the prima donna soprano of the Bostonians, is also to enter the stellar field, as has already been announced. Her manager will be Mr. Perley, and her backer is said to be a wealthy and shrewd San Franciscan. That he is probably shrewd is evidenced by his selection of Miss Neilson as a candidate for public favor. There is not a woman on the comic opera stage today who would be so likely to succeed as a star as Miss Neilson, and it is almost a certainty that when Lillian Russell shall have ceased to be regarded as the queen in her line of work, Miss Neilson will by common consent be hailed as her successor, and a worthy one, as she will be when the time shall come, if nothing unforeseen shall occur in the interim. While she has not the radiant beauty or the "Airy Fairy" one, she is nevertheless very pretty, she has a charming naïveté which is none too common, and she sings beautifully, her voice being sympathetic rather than brilliant. It has been decided that Harry B. Smith and Victor Herbert will supply the opera in which Miss Neilson will make her stellar debut, which means that in all probability there will be nothing lacking on that score.

Mme. Modjeska is to play an engagement of a few weeks at the Fifth Avenue theater in this city shortly, and the outcome of the experiment is being awaited with considerable interest. A few years ago Modjeska was one of the most popular as she was one of the most talented actresses in this country, or for that matter in the world. She made a great deal of money as a star, and had a large following among the theater going public. In this city she probably attracted as thoughtful audiences as any star who has appeared here during the last decade.

While she was at the height of her popularity the announcement was made that she was about to retire and her farewell performances partook of the nature of a series of ovations. She had a fine property in California where she intended to pass the remainder of her days. Illness, however, laid her low and it proved an exceptionally costly thing for her, for after she had recovered she found that most of her fortune had been used up and she was then obliged to return to the stage as a means of earning a livelihood. This she has now done and so far she has been fairly successful, but she, in common with her friends, is naturally very anxious to find out whether or not she will again be accepted with the old favor by New York audiences.

Cheap Electric Launches.

Every man who has a boat can now virtually have his electric launch. The portable electric motor, rudder and propeller weigh about 25 pounds and are quickly attached to any rowboat or tender. The motor, which is small, is mounted on top of the rudder and operated by a primary battery placed either in the bow or under one of the seats. The propeller is attached to the rudder with a shaft connecting it with the motor. The steerer of the boat, as he sits in the stern, can control the speed by a small rotary cock handle at the end of the tiller arm, of which he always retains hold. Attached to the handle also is an electric switch, which controls the current for going ahead or backing. It takes only a few minutes to pour a new solution into the battery, which will then run all day. The cost of the whole plant is very low. A boat thus supplied with its own motive power and fitted with an awning will enable its owner to make many a delightful summer jaunt that hitherto has been possible only to the possessor of a much more pretentious and costly craft.

Cement Not Necessary.

It will be possible hereafter to repair bicycle tires without cement. Small rubber bands are forced one at a time through the puncture into the tire, being held in by the lower end of a tool shaped like a hook, until a sufficient number of bands have been pushed inside. They are then drawn outward until about half of their length is outside. The bands stretch as they are pulled outward, and when the tension is released they swell the puncture full and by expanding sideways and contracting in the other direction are claimed to effect a positively tight repair. The ends of the bands, being expanded, form a head inside and outside, and the outside ends may be trimmed off nearly to the surface of the tire.

Business Principles.

President William A. Engeman of the Brighton Beach Racing association believes that race tracks should be run on business principles. He spent many thousands of dollars last year improving the track, but because of the inclement weather the season was a poor one financially. He is by no means discouraged and contemplates making many more improvements for the coming season. Mr. Engeman intends to make Brighton Beach the home of long distance racing, such as was popular years ago. In order to revive an interest in four mile races he intends to open a breeders' stake, combining the features of the Futurity, Matron and Realization stakes.

Military Athletics.

The National Guard association of New York state has decided that athletic competitions shall be established in the guard, open to all members, and that the commander in chief be requested to provide, if possible, suitable state decorations for such as shall make qualifying scores. The establishment of the physical qualification medals will in no way interfere with the newly organized Military Athletic league. This association will govern the championships and ordinary competitions of the regular athletes, while the state will encourage development among the men.

COLD CURE

PRESIDENT NOT SATISFIED.

Spanish Government Is Expected to Disavow the Insult Offered by Its Ministers at Washington to the President of the United States.

At 8 o'clock Thursday evening a dispatch came from Minister Woodford and was hurriedly taken to Judge Day's residence. Assistant Secretary Day was seriously agitated after reading it, but said that all that could be made public was that the dispatch confirmed the information as to the acceptance of De Lome's resignation.

It is said that the dispatch reiterated the statement made in General Woodford's first message that the Spanish government simply rested with the announcement that De Lome's resignation had been accepted and declined to disavow responsibility for the language used by him in referring to the president and people of the United States.

A refusal to make a disavowal of De Lome's sentiments places the administration in a position calling for decisive action immediately. If Spain persists in maintaining this present attitude there is no alternative, it is urged, but the withdrawal of Minister Woodford from Madrid and the severance of diplomatic relations.

ACCEPTS HIS RESIGNATION.

Spanish Government Is Lient with De Lome.

Madrid, Feb. 11.—At a meeting of the Spanish cabinet held Thursday under the presidency of the queen regent the minister for foreign affairs, Senor Gullon, read a dispatch from Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington, saying that the published letter to Senor Canalejas was written by him and that his position consequently had become untenable and he begged the government to accept his resignation. The cabinet decided to accept the resignation of Senor Dupuy de Lome and intrust the first secretary with the conduct of the current affairs of the legation.

The candidature of Senor Muruaga to succeed Senor de Lome has been abandoned. The government maintains its reserve, desiring to secure the approval of the United States officials at Washington according to diplomatic custom before appointing Senor de Lome's successor.

All the newspaper comments on the subject bitterly denounce "the business of stealing and publishing a private letter."

Highwaymen on Wheel

A wheelman of West 46th Street, New York, was not long since attacked, robbed and left senseless by two highwaymen mounted on bicycles in Central Park. Repeated account of robberies by men mounted upon the swift revolving wheel have appeared in the papers in various parts of the country. In each instance, so far as learned, they have evaded the police. Those depredations of the health, diseases of the kidneys and bladder, will likewise in all likelihood escape arrest, and pursue their atrocious career unchecked, unless they are arrested in the outset by the potent invention of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest diuretic, as well as tonic, known to modern times. The genial preventive named is the best known medicinal safeguard not only against renal, but against rheumatic and neural disorders. It is at the start that disease is the more easily and completely overcome. The use of Bitters is followed by the happy results in cases of dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness.

Dreadfully Nervous.

GENTS.—I was dreadfully nervous, and for relief took your Karl's Glover Root Tea. It quieted my nerves and strengthened my nervous system. I was troubled with constipation, kidney and bowel trouble. Your tea soon cleansed my system so thoroughly that I rapidly regained health and strength. Mrs. S. A. Sweet, Hartford, Conn. Sold by People's Drug Co.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

The little editorial on postal savings banks, recently published in the Gazette, accomplished a purpose, by calling out a strong defense in favor of the system by one of its most ardent supporters. The arguments used are satisfying to the minds of people who are infatuated with the scheme. The American people are easily infatuated. Nebraska was clamoring, not long since for government depatriation; claiming that the western farmers should be furnished with government funds on corn and other cereals at two per cent. interest. Many of the southern and western states backed by the United States senate, are now demanding the free and unlimited coinage of silver on a forty cent basis. The average American is a restless being. His ambition to better his condition is laudable, but his promises are not always right. His environments and opportunities, are not paralleled by any other country in the world. That he should be encouraged to save and accumulate in any legitimate way, is not a debatable question, and that these savings should be surrounded with all the safe-guards that honesty and ingenuity can produce, goes without saying; but that the government should be called upon to be the guarantor of such accumulations, is a debatable question.

The Mutual Savings banks, confined largely to the New England states, and controlling a large majority of the savings deposits, not only enjoy the confidence of the people, but pay as a rule, a fair rate of interest. If the laws that govern them were adopted in the middle, southern and western states, the same degree of confidence would be universal and the demand for government protection would speedily subside.

If Postal Savings banks are established it will doubtless result in funding the national debt at home which would be a good thing for the country, but The Gazette does not believe that a republican form of government can afford to engage extensively in the banking business.

The Chicago Inter Ocean, under its new editorial management, is doing good work for the republican party. The paper advocates vigorously and intelligently loyalty to the party, and its utterances are extremely refreshing, after the persistent tirade of abuse heaped upon party leaders and managers by the papers that are supposed to reflect republican sentiment. The Inter Ocean does not hesitate to go out with a keen blade after the civic federation and modern reformer whose only mission and ambition is to tear down and destroy. Chicago, like many other cities, is cursed with a class of would-be leaders, who are a little too pure for this world, and not quite pure enough for the next.

The republican party has no use for them, and the sooner it finds it out, the better it will be for the party. Janesville republicans who enjoy reading a staunch republican journal, will not be disappointed in the Inter Ocean.

The currency question is rapidly developing ability to take care of itself. There is more money in sight today than at any time in the history of the country.

The Dingley tariff bill seems to be all right. All it wants is time to demonstrate its ability to pay running expenses and leave a handsome surplus.

If Germany is troubled with American worms she ought to try our Ben Davis apples. The worm doesn't exist that has the hardihood to tackle a Ben Davis. The apple can be flavored with extract of limburger or any thing else that pleases the German taste, without injury to the fruit.

Minister DeLome has evidently bitten off more than he can masticate. Weyler, Blanco and De Lome. Spain should be proud of the trio.

The Chicago sausage maker will make no more sausage until Mrs. Lustgert returns from Oshkosh.

HORSE TALKS.

Since the season closed 4,000 loads of hay have been put on the Cleveland track.

Mr. William Gray of Buffalo has gone to Europe with Belle Pilot, 2:15½, and Bonnie F., 2:18½.

American thoroughbreds won a little over $100,000 for their owners on the English turf last season.

Trainer G. F. Ruggles of Jefferson, O., is now educating a very promising sister to Octavia, 2:11½.

Mr. B. W. Ford has returned to Lexington, Ky., with the intention of starting a breeding farm near that city.

Samp and Dick Wilson will have in their stable the coming season the very fast pacing stallion Earlmont, 2:09¾.

Mr. C. H. Du Bois of Bradford, Pa., has shipped to Hamburg the trotting stallions Prose, 2:16¼, and Roleo, 2:23.

The track at McKee's Rocks, Pa., will be improved in the spring, and larger purses will be offered this season.

Herr Charles Woesl of Vienna is the new owner of Nutsbell, 2:15, by Bayonne Prince, that gentleman having paid $2,650 for the mare.

T. C. Stackhouse of Lexington, Ky., has a full brother to Rex Americas, 2:11¼, coming 2 years old, that is entered in $80,000 worth of stakes.

The fastest yearling at San Mateo farm, California, is by Ora Wilkes, out of Mary Best. The sire has a record of 2:11 and the dam one of 2:12¾.

John Splan, who was recently on a trip to the west, is authority for the statement that Alix, 2:08¾, looks as though she would stand training.

The Hamburg-American steamer Pennsylvania, which left New York Jan. 22, carried 17 trotters from the Village farm, near Buffalo, besides a number of other trotters.

People who have a right to know insist that Directly, 2:07¾, will probably be one of the sensational pacers of 1898. He last year showed a half in one minute, and in a race at Columbus, O., paced a mile in 2:04.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

White broadtail is used for vests in cloth gowns.

Medici collars and high collars in almost any shape seem to be a feature of the latest jackets.

White suede gloves are the thing for afternoon and evening wear, and white suede slippers are worn for dancing.

Something new in lace is a "wire grounded" valenciennes for trimming underwear and warranted to wear out the nainsook it decorates.

Plush is making a vigorous bid for favor again, and used in combination with venetian point lace, embroidered with gold and silver thread, it makes a very rich dress trimming.

The newest things among the novelties are gun metal beading, very much seen on fine half mourning dresses, and gun metal buckles for hats and throat latches and in dress decoration and gun metal belts.

The latest thing in hats is a toque of white broadtail trimmed with white feathers. The low, broad effect in arranging the trimming on all hats is the novelty in midwinter millinery. High, one sided decorations are out of date.

Antique satin, peau de soie and satin duchesse are favorite silks of the moment. Besides these there are the corded and twilled silks in oriental patterns which are used for waists. Roman striped taffetas make pretty petticoats.

The promises of May are already being made, and tender hearts who will not have the plumage or bodies of dead songsters in their hats can this spring trim the hats with lovely ibis feathers that cost no lives and are fair to look upon.

Scraps of pretty old lace are applied on black or cream net and worn as dog collars and as collars with lace tendrils falling out on the shoulders as pendants. Lace bracelets are among other pretty oddities, and especially exquisite patterns are mounted on white wire and worn as coronets in the hair.—New York Sun.

STAGE GLINTS.

Arthur Farrar Clarke has dramatized his own novel, "Silas Hood."

Anson Pond's new play "The Helping Hand" is to be brought out in New York city soon.

William Gillette is making an English version of a French farce, but it is understood that he will not take a part in it.

Elizabeth Robins, an American actress who introduced in London a number of the Ibsen plays, is to return to this country.

"Lies," a four act drama by the Swedish authoress Anna Wahlenberg, will soon be given at the Deutsches theater in Berlin.

H. A. Du Souchet is revising "My Wife's Step-Husband," which had an inadequate production, and it is to be presented in New York.

An extravaganza produced as original in Boston under the title of "A Normandy Wedding" was at once identified as "Papa Goo Goo."

Pinero's new comedy "Trolawney of the Wells" seems to be attractive in spite of the fact that it has a British earl playing a ballet girl in it.

READ : OVER : THE : ANALYSIS.

Laboratory of the Health Department.

OSCAR DE WOLF, Commissioner of Health.

DEAR SIR—I have made a very careful and elaborate chemical analysis of twenty-seven Baking Powder samples received from the hands of Mr. Merki your clerk and have the honor to report the following table of figures.

	Soluble Ash.	Insoluble Ash.	Total Ash.
S. W. & Co.'s Perfection.....	39.00	0.06	39.06
Widely Advertised Baking Powder No. 1 .....	36.18	0.12	36.30
Widely Advertised Baking Powder No. 2 .....	36.10	0.12	36.22

A known and weighed quantity of Baking Powder was incinerated in a silver crucible until only a gray residue was left. This is the total ash. It was carefully removed to a glass vessel and acted upon by hydrochloric acid and distilled water at the boiling point; what dissolved in that menstruum has been called soluble ash, and that which did not, insoluble ash.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Yours Very Respectfully

R. S. G. PATON, Chemist of the Health Department.

CONDUCTOR'S PARTY A GREAT SUCCESS

CHARMING SOCIAL EVENT AT THE ARMORY.

Decorations Were Handsome, and the Arrangements All That Could Be Desired—Attendance Was Large, and the Affair One of the Most Pleasant On Record.

OR the thirteenth consecutive time, Bower City Division, Order of Railway Conductors gave an annual ball at the Armory last night, and the party was a most enjoyable one. Cut flowers in rich profusion were used in beautifying the big hall, and the scene was one of beauty. Portiers were used to cover the windows, while the musicians were almost hidden 'neath flowers.

Music was rendered by the Imperial orchestra of Chicago, and the Chicago Weber Quartette gave a charming concert before the dancing began.

The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Williams, of Whitewater, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dower of this city.

Supper was served at the Hotel Myers, carriages carrying the guests to and from the hall. The menu was all that could be desired, and Johnson & Stevens won many compliments.

The committees had made all plans with consummate skill, to which fact much of the pleasure of the evening was due. The committee of arrangements consisted of L. M. Thomas, F. D. Sughrue and A. E. ## A BAD CHARGE MADE AGAINST MR. BAHR

WELL KNOWN FARMER IS A DEFENDANT.

Mrs. Herbert Wright of Evansville, is the Complaining Witness and Conviction Means a Term in the Penitentiary At Waupun—Struck Him With a Chair.

George Bahr, a well known town of Magnolia farmer, was arrested at his home last evening, charged with assaulting Mrs. Herbert Wright of Evansville. The penalty on conviction of the crime charged, is imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year or more than ten years.

A telephone message from the Out Off city, yesterday morning, brought the first intimation of the alleged crime to this city, and on receiving the news, District Attorney Jackson at once left for the scene of the trouble.

A warrant was then sworn out for Bahr's arrest and placed in the hands of Constable Acheson who drove to the Bahr farm and placed the accused under arrest. At Evansville he gave bond for his appearance when wanted.

According to the story as told by Mrs. Wright, she and the defendant have been intimately acquainted for some time and have always been the best of friends. Wednesday afternoon of this week, Bahr drove in from the farm to Evansville and at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, visited the Wright homestead where he found Mrs. Wright alone. Mrs. Wright alleges that Bahr then acted in a way that caused her to fear for her life.

A heavy chair was in reach and Mrs. Wright struck Bahr on the top of the head the chair. Bahr then quietly left the house, walked down town, did some trading, and then drove home just as if nothing had happened.

Mrs. Wright notified her husband, who works for the Baker Manufacturing company, and he then swore out a warrant for the arrest of Bahr.

Both parties are well known throughout the country and each have a coat of friends who will watch the outcome of the case with much interest. Bahr is a married man and is considered a well-to-do farmer.

WARM PRAISE FOR FANNY RICE

Today's Madison Democrat Says She Made a Great Hit.

Fanny Rice appeared at Madison last night and The Daily Democrat this morning praises her lavishly in a half column article. The article says in part:

"Whew! Scintillating, sparkling, vivacious, romping, bewitching—all these are Fanny Rice in 'At the French Ball.' If anyone went to the Fuller last evening to do anything but laugh long and loud he was disappointed. There never was a funnier thing seen in Madison. Fanny Rice is a whole comedy in herself and her company is excellent."

JOHN H. MYERS WINS IN COUNTY COURT

CASE GOES AGAINST THE PETITIONERS.

Action Is Dismissed On the Motion of W. G. Wheeler, Attorney For the Defendant, and He Still Has Charge of the Estate—Appoint No Guardian.

John H. Myers will continue to manage that portion of the Myers estate that has been in his hands since the death of his father, the late Peter Myers.

In the county court this morning, when the matter for the appointment of a guardian over John H. Myers came up for hearing, the case was dismissed by Judge Sale, on the grounds that the petition as presented did not contain sufficient facts.

The petitioners felt anything, but pleased over the outcome of the case and declared that the end was not yet. The trouble has been brewing among the heirs of the estate for some time. Several weeks ago heirs claimed that John H. Myers was acting in a strange way and that they believed that his mind was affected. As he had the estate in his hands, valued at several thousand dollars, the other heirs claimed that something should be done.

Mrs. Peter Myers, the aged mother of the defendant, and Peter L. Myers, a brother, then caused proceedings to be commenced for the appointment of a guardian. In the petition several allegations were made. When the case was called this morning fully two dozen witnesses were on hand to testify against the defendant.

Attorney W. G. Wheeler of Dunwiddie & Wheeler appeared in behalf of Mr. Myers, while Attorney L. F. Patten looked after the interest of the petitioners.

It is now said that the matter, for the present at least, is settled.

Mr. Candor (heartily)—Thank heaven!—Tit-Bits.

There Were Others.

Dick—Why did you break off your engagement with Miss Priddy?

Tom—Because her parrot was always saying: "Stop that, George!"

Dick—Well, what difference does that make? Your engagement was no secret?

Tom—But my name is not George.—Up-to-Date.

It Wouldn't Do.

THE WORLD'S NEWS OF YESTERDAY.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The house was in a very bad temper Thursday and the whole session was consumed in filibustering against two bills of minor importance—one to issue a duplicate check, and the other to make Rockland, Me., a support of entry. Neither got further than the engrossment and third reading. An adjournment was taken until Monday.

During almost the entire session of the senate Thursday the Indian appropriation bill was under discussion. The reading of the bill was completed, and all of the committee amendments were adopted. Subsequently several amendments of a minor character were attached to the measure. It was expected to conclude the consideration of the pending bill, but when an appeal was taken from a ruling of the vice-president by Mr. Allen that an amendment offered by Mr. Thurston of Nebraska was not in order, the point of order was made by Mr. Allen that a quorum was not present. A roll call disclosing the absence of a quorum the senate adjourned.

Favorable to Labor Bill.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Grosvener bill for arbitration between railways and their employees was favorably recommended by the house committee on labor Thursday. It is a modification of the Phillips bill, which was passed by the house at the last session. It has been urged by the railway organizations for some time, but was opposed by the American Federation of Labor. The latter organization finally withdrew opposition.

Vigorous Protest Effective.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The state department Thursday sent to the senate the correspondence with Germany regarding the exclusion of American fruit. It shows that Ambassador White and the state department both took vigorous and prompt steps on learning of Germany's action, and that Germany disavowed any intention to avert competition, saying it merely intended to prevent introduction of insect-infected apples.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Treasury officers are satisfied with the returns now coming in from the Dingley bill. For the last ten days the total receipts have averaged $1,057,892 daily. This rate, kept up for the year, would amount to over $386,000,000, which is some $36,000,000 more than the average expenditure of the government.

The companion bill making the primary law compulsory where it has been adopted was passed by a vote of 38 yeas to 6 nays.

The house resolution asking for a conference committee to adjust the differences of the revenue bill was transmitted. In the house the McGinnis telephone bill was again recalled to second reading for slight amendment, and was then made a special order for next Tuesday.

COVERED BY SLEET.

Storm Does Damage in Nebraska—Brings Traffic to a Standstill.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 11.—The worst sleetstorm in the history of the state has prevailed throughout Nebraska since midnight Wednesday night. The damage is enormous. Everything exposed to the atmosphere is coated with from one to two inches of ice. The most damage in Omaha has been done to telegraph and telephone wires. Many poles are down and traffic is almost paralyzed.

In addition to the heavy coating of ice making it almost impossible to dispatch trains, the right of way is in such a condition as to make business well-nigh impossible. The roads in many cases have no wires. The Missouri Pacific has been unable to communicate with St. Louis since Wednesday morning. The storm seems to be worse in the southern part of the state, extending into Kansas. Not a particle of snow covers the wheat fields of the state.

It is the kind of storm which cattle men dread, as it is impossible for range cattle to secure food. There is much apprehension among stockmen that the storm may prove to be disastrous to their interests. By liberal feeding farmers can keep their cattle in condition.

Cleveland, Feb. 11.—In Cleveland iron circles the sensational story is in circulation that an effort is being made by the Carnegie Iron Company to form a trust, controlling the entire pig iron trade of the country. Local iron dealers recently received communications from the Carnegie company urging that such a deal be considered and advancing lengthy arguments to prove the benefit a trust would be to all concerned.

The promoters of the project propose to follow the same plan under which the big coal trust is now being organized. They propose to bring all the leading producers into the combine and regulate their output by giving each member of the combine an allotment. It is proposed to regulate the allotment by figuring on the average output of each firm during the last five years. It is also proposed to establish a central selling company, which will be obliged to handle the output of the trust, placing it in the hands of the consumers.

INTENSE SUFFERING

From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

INSTANTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED.

A New Discovery. But Not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. He says: "The patient was a man who had suffered to my knowledge for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create acid and gases in the stomach; he had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night."

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured. There was no more acidity or sour watery risings, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous and he has gained between 10 and 12 pounds in weight of solid, healthy flesh."

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal. Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach however slight or severe.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents for full sized package.

BEWARE OF MORPHINE.

Mrs. Pinkham Asks Women to Seek Permanent Cures and Not Mere Temporary Relief From Pain.

Special forms of suffering lead many a woman to acquire the morphine habit. One of these forms of suffering is a dull, persistent pain in the side, accompanied by heat and throbbing. There is disinclination to work, because work only increases the pain.

This is only one symptom of a chain of troubles; she has others she cannot bear to confide to her physician, for fear of an examination, the terror of all sensitive, modest women.

The physician, meantime, knows her condition, but cannot combat her shrinking terror. He yields to her supplication for something to relieve the pain. He gives her a few morphine tablets, with very grave caution as to their use. Foolish woman! She thinks morphine will help her right along; she becomes its slave!

A wise and a generous physician had such a case; he told his patient he could do nothing for her, as she was too nervous to undergo an examination. In despair, she went to visit a friend. She said to her, "Don't give yourself up; just go to the nearest druggist's and buy a bottle of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will build you up. You will begin to feel better with the first bottle." She did so, and after the fifth bottle her health was re-established. Here is her own letter about it:

"I was very miserable; was so weak that I could hardly get around the house, could not do any work without feeling tired out. My monthly periods had stopped and I was so tired and nervous all of the time. I was troubled very much with falling of the womb and bearing-down pains. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; I have taken five bottles, and think it is the best medicine I ever used. Now I can work, and feel like myself. I used to be troubled greatly with my head, but I have had no bad headaches or palpitation of the heart, womb trouble or bearing-down pains, since I commenced to take Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. I gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman. The use of one bottle will prove what it can do."—MRS. LUCY PEASLEY, Derby Center, Vt.

bottle will prove what it can do.

HUNTING WILD HOG.

A graphic story of wild hog hunting in the San Joaquin valley is told by William Douglass, a well known Californian.

"We fitted out for a three days' stay," said Douglass, "Jim Pope and myself, and we found the toughest country we ever saw. There is nothing but tangled willows, blackberry vines, hazel bushes and underbrush, and you have to crawl on the ground or climb over it or cut your way through. We found a woodchopper's cabin, where we put up for the night, and started on the hunt at 4 o'clock in the morning. The brush was so thick that it took an hour to go a mile. It must have been fully three hours before we got a sign of a wild hog. Jim caught a glimpse of him in a bit of clearing. We crawled through the tangled blackberry vines in front and got a good view of him. He was an old boar, just like the pictures you have seen. Near him was a sow and three fairly grown pigs. They were too far off for a good dead shot, so we moved about to get a little nearer. I went to the left and Jim to the right.

"The old rascal must have scented us for he lifted his snout and started for the brush directly in front of where I was standing. I stepped out and in the excitement shot too soon, for he was over 75 yards off. The shot never touched him, and he made straight for me.

"I did not think there was any danger, for I knew all I had to do to get another and a better shot was to pump another cartridge into the magazine. I tried to work the gun. The cartridge stuck. I pumped it for all it was worth, but it would not budge.

"I was on one knee, using every muscle to dislodge the shell, and the boar was coming head on like a limited express.

"I saw he'd reach me before I could jump anywhere for safety, so I clubbed the gun and made a smash at him. But I slipped on the soggy ground, and he was at me when I heard Jim's Winchester crack. The boar looked as big as an elephant to me for an instant. I'm sure his tusks looked larger than a mastodon's.

"He was right over me, and one of his tusks grazed my duck coat as Jim caught him between the shoulders. I laid flat on the ground, reaching for my knife, as the boar toppled over.

"That's the closest shave I ever had. When Jim fired, the boar fell directly across my body, and I couldn't get out from under him till Jim ran up and helped to roll the big brute over. He did not look quite so big when he was stretched out as he did when standing over me with his head ready for a gouge, but he was a vicious looking rascal just the same. We each have one of the big tusks as souvenirs of that fight.

"On the way home we bowled over another. An old sow and two pigs were rooting acorns under an oak. This time we had a 'cinch,' for we were right on them, and while I put a load of buckshot into one of the pigs Jim caught the sow right under the left shoulder. Then our troubles began again. How to get them out through the brush was the next question. We finally decided to take the pig and let the old woodchopper take the sow out if he wanted her.

"That night we had a feast in his cabin. He dressed the pig, did the cooking and we did the rest. I tell you we were hungry."

Horse Race Insurance.

English insurance companies do a big trade in the winter time with clerks of courses in issuing to them policies against the postponement of meetings. This kind of insurance, however, does not help the race horse owner, and when the postponement takes place he finds himself with a heavy loss to face. Perhaps the time may come when race course companies will recompense owners in the event of a meeting having to be postponed or abandoned.

Yachting at Kiel.

Under the patronage of the German emperor there will be a race week at Kiel this year, beginning on June 24 and ending on July 1. The deep sea race from Kiel to Swinemunde will be started by the Imperial Yacht club of Kiel on July 5. It is said that the big cutter Meteor, belonging to Emperor William, will come in and contest under a handicap.

Dr. Buckley Was Very Ill.

Pittsburg, Feb. 11.—Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, arrived in Pittsburg last Monday night from New York and shortly after registering at the Hotel Lincoln was attacked with symptoms of poisoning. After several hours of intense suffering he recovered sufficiently to go to California, Pa., where he delivered a lecture Tuesday night. He returned to Pittsburg yesterday and left for home last night. His illness was ascribed to canned corn, which he had partaken of quite freely on a train while en route to this city.

Britain Controls Korean Customs.

London, Feb. 11.—While M. Alexieff seems to have a free hand with the Korean finance minister, Mr. Brown is still chief collector of customs and is found daily at the head office. It seems that Mr. McLeavy Brown held the trump card in the game Russia has been playing in Seoul, in that he had the accumulated funds of the Korean customs in his own name. M. Alexieff has only the current empty treasury to amuse himself with.

German Force Is Strong.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 11.—Oriental advices brought by the Empress of China states that with the arrival of the re-enforcements to the German squadron at Kiao-Chou the German force will number 4,200 men. There is some disturbance at Chee-Foo. Some disbanded soldiers from Kiao-Chou have begun plundering in the surrounding country.

She was buying a "Polly" in a downtown bird store. The bird dealer said he was sure that the parrot would talk. If she didn't he would exchange her for another that did.
